UGANDA

With a tapestry of landscapes, unique wildlife and welcoming locals, Uganda packs a lot into one small country. It's home to one of Africa's highest mountain-ranges (the Rwenzoris), the source of the Nile, the world's longest river and the continent's largest lake. About 34% of the country is covered in wetlands with a dense network of rivers, lakes and swamps. Uganda is host to Lake Albert, Lake George, Lake Edwards, Lake Kyoga and Lake Victoria which is the 2nd largest freshwater lake in the world. Uganda's weather conditions are ideal, ranging from the warmth of the lowland areas to the coolness of the highlands in the southwest. It is one of the best destinations to visit because of its year-round holiday climate. The reason why Uganda has a favorable climate is because of its position on the equator and its altitude; this has attracted many tourists who love adventuring with wildlife. The most interesting aspect of Uganda's climate is that during the wet season, rain usually occurs in the morning or at night with a beautiful thunderstorm and shortly afterwards the sun's rays appear to dry up the land. For the greater part of the year, Uganda is sunny with temperatures rarely rising above 29°C (84 °F). The average temperature is about 26 °C (78 °F), with a maximum of 31 °C (87 °F) and a minimum of 15 °C (59 °F) depending on the part of the country. Time in Uganda follows East African Standard time. GMT+3 Travelling to Uganda various airlines travel to Uganda including KLM, Brussels, Emirates, Ethiopian, Qatar Airways and Kenya Air. The most convenient Way for Tourists to obtain visas for Uganda is on arrival at the airport in Entebbe, if you are flying, but one can also apply for the Uganda Tourism Visa online if you want everything settled prior to arrival. This will always be the advised way to go. Give yourself sufficient time to apply for these documents and make sure when applying that the start date and validity covers the period you wish to travel. Yellow fever vaccination is mandatory for any traveler who intends to visit Uganda, whether for a safari, holiday, or any other visit.
